The Flow of Power is Inverted

DeFacto Government

- Federal Government [UNITED STATES, INC]
- Congress
- States [STATE OF WASHINGTON, INC]
- Counties [COUNTY OF KING, INC]
- Townships/Parishes [CITY OF SEATTLE, INC]
- People [JOHN MARK DOE, INC] (STRAWMAN)

The Way Power is Supposed to Flow in America

DeJure Land Government

- People [John Mark Doe]
- Townships/Parishes [Seattle]
- Counties [King County]
- States [Washington State]
- Federation of States Assembly (Delegated)
- Confederation of States (Delegated)
- Federal Republic (Delegated)

Relationships of the State Assemblies, Counties, and the Federation

- All three share the focus on improving the lives of Americans in their community (a unified body of individuals, families, and their land)
- The three have important authorities and responsibilities that inter-twine as they provide government services (direct delivery, paid for, or regulated by)
- Counties are a geographical creation of the state (not political) and provide essential administrative services to the state
- Counties have the largest and broadest government responsibility and accountability to individual Americans

Current Relationship of the State and County

- The power of county governments arise from state law and vary widely from state to state
- The relationship between counties and incorporated cities also varies widely
- The 3,000 plus counties in the US each have unique histories and political standing in their community
- The State Assembly has a singular opportunity to greatly improve community services by increasing the county voice in the state level decision making

Zoom Meeting on 05/19/2021

The State Assembly Faces the Gordian Knot*

- The issues of governance the State Assemblies will have to make decisions on over the next several years will become increasingly complex and important
- Developing and maintaining a commitment to the Assembly acting as a “committee of the whole” will require much greater use of internal and external inputs while emphasizing small collaborative study groups
- This is a next level of sophistication of organization beyond recruiting and will require different elements of training

The knot represents out-of-the-box thinking and confident and decisive action when solving a difficult and involved problem. It's a symbol of creativity, confidence and the overcoming of adversity*

The Jural Assembly

Article 2593- The Fastest Way Home “State Citizens will want to cancel Voter Registrations. Both State Citizens and State Nationals who were in the military and who want to live as civilians with no further attachment will need to send a Severance Letter.”

Article 1509. For All The Jural Assemblies – 6 Pointers and Questions “2. Shouldn't all State Assembly Members cancel their Voter Registrations? Yes, they have to. This goes back to the requirement that all the actual land and soil jurisdiction State governments have forbidding Dual Citizenship. You are either in or out, so far as the States are concerned. The Territorial and Municipal Governments both allow Dual Citizenship, but in establishing and operating the State Jural Assemblies we have to work for our State and conduct its business. This goes back to the principle of "Checks and Balances" --- you can't allow your employees to write their own job descriptions, set their own pay and benefits, and supervise all their own activities...”
